               an attitude of tax compliance for the new generation

On 19th October 2012, Mr. Tanusak Lekuthai, the Deputy Minister of Finance, presided over the "Let Your Imagination Fly" (Tid Peek Khwam Kid) activity of the RD Camp Season 5 at the main building of the Bureau of Information Technology, the Revenue Department. Dr. Satit Rungkasiri, the Director-General, and top executives of the Revenue Department have gathered to welcome the Deputy Minister and all participants. Among more than 500 applicants, 60 persons were qualified to join the RD Camp from 19th – 25th October 2012 at the Brookside Valley Resort in Rayong Province.

Dr. Satit Rungkasiri, Director-General of The Revenue Department, said that "The Revenue Department has organized the RD Camp for five seasons. In the current season, there were more than 500 applicants from leading academic institutions nationwide, and 60 of them were selected to participate in the "Let Your Imagination Fly" (Tid Peek Khwam Kid) activity for 7 days from 19th – 25th October 2012 at the Brookside Valley Resort in Rayong Province. The aim of this activity is to prepare students in high school, college and university levels for their future careers. Tax knowledge is delivered through various activities, such as lectures, games and group assignments with the emphasis on social responsibility as good taxpayers. Participants must come up with advertisement storyboards under a theme of "Improving Society with the Revenue Department". After completing the camp, all participants are expected to be student role models in tax knowledge and good taxpayers in the future. They would fulfil their duties toward the society and prove themselves as good citizens of the country. In particular, they would represent the Revenue Department to spread the words about tax compliance to close ones now and then".
