On 26th June, 2012 at Central Plaza Grand Rama IX, the Revenue Department has informed that RD Camp Season 5 is organized under the theme of “Tid Peak Kwam Kid” or “Development of Thought”. This will focus on preparation for Thai students who are about to enter workforce to be able to work in volunteer spirit, sharing mind and creative thought, including ability to cooperate with others and ability to understand the mission of the Department.

Dr.Satit Rungkasiri, Director-General of the Revenue Department informed that the mission of the Revenue Department is to collect tax revenue for the Thai Government in variety of tax types, for examples: personal income tax, corporate income tax and value added tax. Not only the tax collection target is higher every fiscal year, the Revenue Department has to increase efficiency in collection processes but also maintaining fairness issue for all taxpayers. The Revenue Department has provided more payment channels to make it convenient for taxpayers in order to persuade residents of Thailand to submit tax returns and to pay taxes on assessable income in the right way and at the right time. The Department has also tried to educate Thai Citizens about taxes, especially the young people who are about to graduate with bachelor degree to be good role model for the next generation. The youth who join this project will not only get benefit but also help the country. They can learn how to get and to give at the same time.

This year RD Camp Season 5 will be held at Brookside Valley Resort, Rayong Province during 19th-25th October, 2012. The qualification of a participant must be a Thai undergraduate student who is 25 years old or under. Any Thai student who is interested in participating in this camp must submit an application form and attach an article of “album of happiness”. It can be either described through 3-5 minutes video clip or written not more than one page of A4 size paper. He or she must show how to create positive attitude towards tax paying and the Revenue Department. The article must be created by the student himself or herself and has never been presented officially anywhere before. The copy of anyone’s work will not be accepted. The committee will consider the article on these contents:

- Communication skills
- Creativity

The chosen students will be invited to join the camp which is free of charge. The application form can be submitted between 26th June – 15th August, 2012.
