Subject : The Revenue Department Encourages New Generation of the Thais with
RD Society Club 2012

Ms. Jitmanee Suwannapool, Deputy Director-General Acting Principal Advisor on Tax Base Management of the Revenue Department, hosting in the inauguration of RD Society Club 2012, stated that "the Revenue Department is confident and foresees more consideration of the Thai people's new generation with regards to tax issues. We hope that the new generation possesses good thoughts and decent conscience concerning their duty in paying taxes, together with living their lives well. This should result in a strong and lasting tax base for the country. As a result of such belief, the Revenue Department has initiated project "RD Society Club", which brings together university students and other Thai citizens who are approximately 20-30 years old to meet each other and exchange their thoughts/experiences. The event was held at Rama Gardens Hotel during 26th - 29th July, 2012. There were nearby 400 participants from all over the country. However, only 80 people were shortlisted to join the project. Activities include those that enhance skills or competency in living in society nowadays, including preparing for the future. The discussion included topics on successful young generation, financial planning, financial savings, personality development, social networking and interesting activities which will benefit everybody who participates in this project."

The Revenue Department set up project RD Society Club with the hope that the participants will become Tax Ambassador of the Revenue Department in communicating and educating any tax-related information to the Thai society, in addition to promoting the new way of learning and developing new creative ideas. The Revenue Department is determined to continue promoting ideas development and affection to the society.
