Subject : The Revenue Department warns public entertainers to file in their half year tax returns within 30th September 2012

The Revenue Department warns public entertainers who have earned income from rent of property, professional services, contract of services and business or commercial activities shall file in their half year tax returns within 30th September 2012.

The Revenue Department informs that individuals, including public entertainers, who have earned assessable income under Section 40(5) to 40(8) – income from rent of property, professional services, contract of services and business or commercial activities – during 1st January to 30th June 2012 shall file in their half year tax returns (P.N.D.94) within 30th September 2012. Due to the fact this coming 30th September is on Sunday, the deadline is automatically extended to Monday 1st October 2012 for taxpayers who wish to file in paper tax return forms. For those who opt to file in P.N.D.94 electronically at www.rd.go.th, the last day to file in is Monday 8th October 2012. The Revenue Department would like to remind all taxpayers to accurately file in their tax returns as the advanced IT systems implemented can be used as an effective tool to monitor income earners and tax withholding information. This information can be and will be used to prosecute those who fail to file in their tax returns or inaccurately file in their tax returns. Taxpayers who have any enquiries can consult with revenue officers at any local revenue office or at RD Call Center 1161.
