Subject : To remind online merchants who gain good sales to submit half-year personal income tax returns (P.N.D. 94) within 30th September 2020

The Revenue Department supports both new and existing online merchants to easily understand about taxes at www.rd.go.th. The online merchants must compile their incomes during 1st January – 30th June 2020 to submit half-year personal income tax returns (P.N.D. 94) within 30th September 2020.

Mrs. Sommai Siriudomset, Principal Advisor on Strategic Tax Administration (Energy Industry) as Spokesperson of the Revenue Department, revealed that “Since the Covid-19 pandemic, the Office of National Broadcasting and Telecommunication Commission (NBTC) has found that Thai people are willing to buy products via online platform increasingly up to 478% due to ease, convenience, good promotion and low price. This brings sales of online businesses to reach a leap growth. Moreover, the Revenue Department has applied Data Analytics to increase efficiency of analyzing data related to online entrepreneurs. For this reason, for both new and existing online entrepreneurs are advised to compile their incomes from businesses during 1st January - 30th June 2020 in order to file half-year personal income tax returns (P.N.D. 94) accurately and completely according to their actual businesses. They can submit P.N.D.94 starting from now till 30th September 2020 at the Area Revenue Branch Office or via the internet at www.rd.go.th till 8th October 2020.”

The spokesperson added that “The online entrepreneurs or business starters are advised to study about taxation, and submit tax returns and make tax payment via an electronic system (e-Filing) at the Revenue Department web site (www.rd.go.th) to be more convenient”.
